

Adapting to Disruption: Accelerating Transformations through Agility

March 6-8, 2018 | San Francisco, CA

Hosted by McKesson Corporation

Led by Chris Worley, Sue Mohrman (CEO) and Beth Gunderson (General Mills)

Adapting to Disruption ...

Organization leaders know that their company's competitiveness and sustainable effectiveness depend on accelerated change implementation and agility. Traditional linear change models no longer work in our complex, volatile, and uncertain world. Proactive learning, redesign, and rapid implementation must become core organizational capabilities that are supported by the organization's design and operation.

In this workshop, you will learn how to:

- Accelerate large-scale transformational change
- Manage the multi-faceted change entailed in strategic organization redesign
- Design high impact interventions
- Build the capacity to continually change and adapt throughout the organization
- Leverage culture, values, and identity
- Build change into the core processes of your organization

Take-aways from this workshop:

- Frameworks, intervention approaches, and tools for dealing with complex changes, including organizational redesigns.
- New understandings of the roles of those who lead and enable agile and ever-changing organizations.
- Case examples of organizations that have developed sophisticated change capabilities and agile designs.
- Diagnostic feedback on your organization's agility profile--and knowledge of design features that promote agility.
- CEO's research based findings on what works and what does not.

Who should attend?

Line managers, organization development practitioners, human resource professionals and other senior change professionals responsible for carrying out complex change in their organizations.

Teams are encouraged to attend. We offer a 15% team discount for 3 or more who register at the same time. In addition, teams will have the opportunity to receive personal coaching from the CEO faculty.

CEO Faculty and Guest Speaker

Chris Worley and Sue Mohrman are known around the world for their research, teaching, and consulting in developing effective, high performance organizations that are able to change and adapt through time. This seminar builds on 30 years of CEO research in these areas.

Our most recent CEO book, The Agility Factor (Worley, Williams and Lawler, 2014), offers specific, research-based case studies to help organizational leaders use agility to achieve sustained profitability and performance while also becoming more adaptable to a changing marketplace.

Guest speaker—Beth Gunderson

Beth is the Senior Director of Organization Capabilities within the General Mills Talent and Organization Capabilities (TOC) department. The TOC team is a corporate Human Resources resource positioned to help drive the strategic imperatives of General Mills through increasing talent and organization capacity/capability. Beth is responsible for organization design and change management practices - consulting on large scale organization design projects as well as building capability across the organization.
